Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People O God, because without you we are not able to please you, mercifully grant that your Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule our hearts; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Proverbs 1:20-33

Wisdom cries out in the street; in the squares she raises her voice. At the busiest corner she cries out; at the entrance of the city gates she speaks: "How long, O simple ones, will you love being simple? How long will scoffers delight in their scoffing and fools hate knowledge? Give heed to my reproof; I will pour out my thoughts to you; I will make my words known to you. Because I have called and you refused, have stretched out my hand and no one heeded, and because you have ignored all my counsel and would have none of my reproof, I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when panic strikes you, when panic strikes you like a storm, and your calamity comes like a whirlwind, when distress and anguish come upon you. Then they will call upon me, but I will not answer; they will seek me diligently, but will not find me. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, would have none of my counsel, and despised all my reproof, therefore they shall eat the fruit of their way and be sated with their own devices. For waywardness kills the simple, and the complacency of fools destroys them; but those who listen to me will be secure and will live at ease, without dread of disaster."

Psalm 19

David Hurd

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1 The heavens declare the ¹glory of ¹God, *
and the ¹firmament shows his ¹handiwork.
- 2 One day tells its ¹tale to ¹an ¹other, *
and one night imparts ¹knowledge ¹to an ¹other.
- 3 Although they have no ¹words or ¹language, *
and their ¹voices are not ¹heard,
- 4 Their sound has gone out into ¹all ¹lands, *
and their message to the ¹ends ¹of the ¹world.
- 5 In the deep has he set a pa¹vilion for the ¹sun; *
it comes forth like a bridegroom out of his chamber;
it rejoices like a ¹champion to ¹run its ¹course.
- 6 It goes forth from the uttermost edge of the heavens and runs about to the ¹end of it a ¹gain; *
nothing is ¹hidden from its ¹burning ¹heat.
- 7 The law of the LORD is perfect and re¹vives the ¹soul; *
the testimony of the LORD is sure and gives ¹wisdom ¹to the ¹innocent.

- 8 The statutes of the LORD are just and re¹joice the¹heart; *
the commandment of the LORD is clear and gives¹light¹ to the¹eyes.
- 9 The fear of the LORD is clean and en¹dures for¹ever; *
the judgments of the LORD are true and¹righteous¹alto¹gether.
- 10 More to be desired are they than gold, more than¹much fine¹gold, *
sweeter far than honey, than¹honey¹in the¹comb.
- 11 By them also is your¹servant en¹lightened, *
and in keeping them¹there is¹great re¹ward.
- 12 Who can tell how¹often he of¹fends? *
—¹cleanse me from my¹secret¹faults.
- 13 Above all, keep your servant from presumptuous sins;
let them not get do¹minion¹over me; *
then shall I be whole and sound,
and¹innocent of a¹great of¹fense.
- 14 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be ac¹ceptable in your¹sight, *
O LORD, my¹strength and¹my re¹deemer.

Second Lesson: James 3:1-12

Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers and sisters, for you know that we who teach will be judged with greater strictness. For all of us make many mistakes. Anyone who makes no mistakes in speaking is perfect, able to keep the whole body in check with a bridle. If we put bits into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, we guide their whole bodies. Or look at ships: though they are so large that it takes strong winds to drive them, yet they are guided by a very small rudder wherever the will of the pilot directs. So also the tongue is a small member, yet it boasts of great exploits.

How great a forest is set ablaze by a small fire! And the tongue is a fire. The tongue is placed among our members as a world of iniquity; it stains the whole body, sets on fire the cycle of nature, and is itself set on fire by hell. For every species of beast and bird, of reptile and sea creature, can be tamed and has been tamed by the human species, but no one can tame the tongue—a restless evil, full of deadly poison. With it we bless the Lord and Father, and with it we curse those who are made in the likeness of God. From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. My brothers and sisters, this ought not to be so. Does a spring pour forth from the same opening both fresh and brackish water? Can a fig tree, my brothers and sisters, yield olives, or a grapevine figs? No more can salt water yield fresh.

Gradual Hymn 523 "Glorious things of thee are spoken"

Abbot's Leigh

Gospel: Mark 8:27-38

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Mark.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus went on with his disciples to the villages of Caesarea Philippi; and on the way he asked his disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" And they answered him, "John the Baptist; and others, Elijah; and still others, one of the prophets." He asked them, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter answered him, "You are the Messiah." And he sternly ordered them not to tell anyone about him.

Then he began to teach them that the Son of Man must undergo great suffering, and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. He said all this quite openly. And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. But turning and looking at his disciples, he rebuked Peter and said, "Get behind me, Satan! For you are setting your mind not on divine things but on human things."

He called the crowd with his disciples, and said to them, "If any want to become my followers, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me. For those who want to save their life will lose it, and those who lose their life for my sake, and for the sake of the gospel, will save it. For what will it profit them to gain the whole world and forfeit their life? Indeed, what can they give in return for their life? Those who are ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of them the Son of Man will also be ashamed when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels."

Communion Anthem At the River adapted by Aaron Copland (1900-1990)
RaShaun Campbell, solo

*Shall we gather by the river,
Where bright angels' feet have trod,
With its crystal tide forever
Flowing by the throne of God?*

*Yes, we'll gather by the river,
The beautiful, the beautiful river,
Gather with the saints by the river
That flows by the throne of God.*

*Soon we'll reach the shining river,
Soon our pilgrimage will cease,
Soon our happy hearts will quiver
With the melody of peace.*

*Yes, we'll gather by the river,
The beautiful, the beautiful river,
Gather with the saints by the river,
That flows by the throne of God.*

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship_reading.html

Proverbs 1:20-33 Today's reading is the first speech put into the mouth of Wisdom, personified as a woman. Following upon the warnings to those who find reasons to neglect the pursuit of wisdom (1:8-19), she delivers warnings of her own about the punishment for being enticed by false wisdom. Proclaiming her message publicly to all in the streets and squares of the village, she warns that those who don't know her or refuse to encounter her will be condemned. She will be unable to help them and their justly deserved punishments will be the result of their stubborn refusal to heed her warnings. Only those who heed Wisdom's call will rest in security and freedom from evil.

Psalm 19 The psalmist celebrates God's revelation, expressed universally in creation and especially in the law. Pagan nations acclaimed the divinity of certain elements in nature (sun, moon, fire, etc.). Here the psalmist counters those claims by boasting that all of nature declares the glory of Israel's God, the Creator. Then the psalmist extols Yahweh's perfect law.

James 3:1-12 The author sandwiches a discussion of the power of speech between his statements about tangible faith (2:14-16) and heavenly wisdom (3:13-18). The tongue can expose faithlessness and foolishness. Its tremendous power is deceptive. The person who gains control over his or her tongue is a person who knows how to exercise discipline over his or her entire life. Teachers are required to watch their speech even more carefully because of the greater significance attributed to their words. These verses echo Jesus' teachings about how words reveal the true nature of one's heart. The tongue speaks the truth about what is hidden within. The author recognizes the double-sided nature of the tongue, which can speak either praise or profanity. He urges his audience to confess the inconsistency and to purify their speech.

Mark 8:27-38 Today's gospel contains three significant elements: first, the confession of Peter; second, the first prediction of Jesus' approaching suffering and death; and third, Jesus' sayings on discipleship. Jesus went to the predominately pagan region of Caesarea Philippi to question and deepen his disciples' understanding of his role and theirs. The popular evaluations of Jesus' identity—John the Baptist, Elijah, a prophet—do not include that of Messiah, which Peter proclaims. In Mark, the general expectation of the Messiah seems to be that of a royal deliverer. Jesus rejected this approach by sternly ordering (literally, rebuking) the disciples not to speak of him in those terms. Instead he used his favorite name for himself, "Son of Man," combining it with the figure of the suffering servant drawn from Isaiah. The word used for "must" in "the Son of Man must undergo great suffering" shows that it is part of God's purpose in fulfillment of the Old Testament (Isaiah 53:10). Mark, however, reiterates throughout his gospel that the disciples (and the Church) cannot truly understand the meaning of Jesus as Messiah before, or apart from, the crucifixion. Peter rejects the thought of a suffering Messiah. But Jesus also said that suffering will be the cost of discipleship. The disciples are called to total surrender of self-centered desire.

Gratitude

B-SAFE July 2018

A huge thank you to the amazing volunteers who made our support of B-SAFE possible this past July, 2018. We supported this important summer academic and enrichment camp at St. Stephen's church with breakfast food, healthy snacks, lunch meals and a field trip to Cochituate State Park. We had more than 45 terrific helpers who shopped, cooked, served and planned, including several first-time volunteers. Thank you so much!

Well wishes and thanks!

This picture represents a fraction of the cards I received while recuperating from my recent health scare. Almost every day over the course of the past several weeks I received cards and notes plus a ton of emails and texts wishing me a speedy recovery. Gifts of ice cream or books, some of which were personally delivered to my house, accompanied many of these cards. Sending these notes may seem like a small thing, but the thoughts and prayers expressed in them were a big deal and contributed to a faster recovery for me. The support network at St. Andrew's is amazing and I feel grateful to belong to such a caring community. I am not out of the woods yet but am feeling stronger and closer to 100% every day. I look forward to resuming my normal routines and seeing all of you very soon.
