Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Grant us, Lord, not to be anxious about earthly things, but to love things heavenly; and even now, while we are placed among things that are passing away, to hold fast to those that shall endure; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Proverbs 31:10-31

A capable wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewels. The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will have no lack of gain. She does him good, and not harm, all the days of her life. She seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands. She is like the ships of the merchant, she brings her food from far away. She rises while it is still night and provides food for her household and tasks for her servant-girls. She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard. She girds herself with strength, and makes her arms strong. She perceives that her merchandise is profitable. Her lamp does not go out at night. She puts her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle. She opens her hand to the poor, and reaches out her hands to the needy. She is not afraid for her household when it snows, for all her household are clothed in crimson. She makes herself coverings; her clothing is fine linen and purple. Her husband is known in the city gates, taking his seat among the elders of the land. She makes linen garments and sells them; she supplies the merchant with sashes. Strength and dignity are her clothing, and she laughs at the time to come. She opens her mouth with wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. She looks well to the ways of her household, and does not eat the bread of idleness. Her children rise up and call her happy; her husband too, and he praises her: "Many women have done excellently, but you surpass them all." Charm is deceitful, and beauty is vain, but a woman who fears the Lord is to be praised. Give her a share in the fruit of her hands, and let her works praise her in the city gates.

Psalm 1

David Hurd

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1 Happy are they who have not walked in the ¹counsel of the ¹wicked, *
nor lingered in the way of sinners,
nor ¹sat in the ¹seats of the ¹scornful!
- 2 Their delight is in the ¹law of the ¹LORD, *
and they meditate on his ¹law ¹day and ¹night.
- 3 They are like trees planted by streams of water,
bearing fruit in due season, with leaves that ¹do not ¹wither; *
— ¹everything they ¹do shall prosper.
- 4 It is not ¹so with the ¹wicked; *
they are like ¹chaff which the ¹wind blows a ¹way.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand upright when judgment comes, *
nor the sinner in the council of the righteous.

6 For the LORD knows the way of the righteous, *
but the way of the wicked is doomed.

Second Lesson: James 3:13-4:3, 7-8a

Who is wise and understanding among you? Show by your good life that your works are done with gentleness born of wisdom. But if you have bitter envy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not be boastful and false to the truth. Such wisdom does not come down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, devilish. For where there is envy and selfish ambition, there will also be disorder and wickedness of every kind. But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, willing to yield, full of mercy and good fruits, without a trace of partiality or hypocrisy. And a harvest of righteousness is sown in peace for those who make peace.

Gospel: Mark 9:30-37

Clergy The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Mark.

People Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Jesus and his disciples passed through Galilee. He did not want anyone to know it; for he was teaching his disciples, saying to them, "The Son of Man is to be betrayed into human hands, and they will kill him, and three days after being killed, he will rise again." But they did not understand what he was saying and were Those conflicts and disputes among you, where do they come from? Do they not come from your cravings that are at war within you? You want something and do not have it; so you commit murder. And you covet something and cannot obtain it; so you engage in disputes and conflicts. You do not have, because you do not ask. You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, in order to spend what you get on your pleasures.

Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you.

afraid to ask him. Then they came to Capernaum; and when he was in the house he asked them, "What were you arguing about on the way?" But they were silent, for on the way they had argued with one another who was the greatest. He sat down, called the twelve, and said to them, "Whoever wants to be first must be last of all and servant of all." Then he took a little child and put it among them; and taking it in his arms, he said to them, "Whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me welcomes not me but the one who sent me."

Offertory Anthem The Lamb

John Tavener (1944-2013)

Words by William Blake (1757-1827)

*Little lamb, who made thee?
Dost thou know who made thee,
Gave thee life, and bid thee feed
By the stream and o'er the mead;
Gave thee clothing of delight,
Softest clothing, woolly, bright;
Gave thee such a tender voice,
Making all the vales rejoice?
Little lamb, who made thee?
Dost thou know who made thee?*

*Little lamb, I'll tell thee;
Little lamb, I'll tell thee:
He is called by thy name,
For He calls Himself a Lamb.
He is meek, and He is mild,
He became a little child.
I a child, and thou a lamb,
We are called by His name.
Little lamb, God bless thee!
Little lamb, God bless thee!*

About the Readings

From Preparing for Sunday http://standrewswellesley.org/worship_reading.html

Proverbs 31:10-31 Proverbs, a collection of concise statements and poetic instructions, is attributed in part to Solomon and to anonymous authors. Many scholars consider 31:10-31 as an epilogue composed by a later editor who wished to represent the idealized feminine figure of Wisdom found in chapters 1–9. Like Wisdom, the ideal wife is of more value than any earthly treasure and is a constant blessing to her family. The description of the wise woman comes to a climax with the summary of verses 30-31. Her wise activities and attitudes spring from her relationship with God. Thus the author describes for us the daily life of an individual who has perfectly mastered the counsel of the rest of the book and embodies it in the way she lives.

Psalms 1 This psalm, with its call to a righteous life based on knowledge of the “law of the Lord,” the Torah, serves as a fitting introduction to all the psalms. It springs from the wisdom tradition, which emphasized how to live in both material and spiritual prosperity. The righteous are those who have not taken the advice of the wicked, nor imitated their way of life, nor joined in their rejection of the law. They “meditate” (v. 2) upon it, literally, ‘read it aloud in a low voice.’ The Lord is in intimate and personal relationship with the righteous.

James 3:13—4:3, 7-8a Today’s reading contains parts of two sections—one on earthly versus heavenly wisdom (3:13-18) and the second on causes of strife and warfare (4:1-6). James first addresses the problem of factions and cliques within the Christian community. These apparently formed around those who claimed special wisdom (3:13), but such wisdom led to jealousy and division. Heavenly wisdom, on the other hand, is characterized by peace within the community. Then the author turns to the question of the basic source of human hostility and aggression. This he finds in covetousness and competitiveness. Those who resort to violence, rather than to prayer, to obtain what they desire are like adulterers who are unfaithful in their relationship to God. One cannot be intimate with the world and with God. Those who pray but do not obtain their desires come to God with corrupt motives. They desire only their welfare and pleasure.

Mark 9:30-37 Today's reading begins a period of private ministry as Jesus concentrates on teaching the disciples. It includes the second of the three predictions of the passion in Mark (8:31; 10:32-34), the briefest of the three. As in the others, the prediction confuses the disciples, so Jesus teaches them about discipleship. The mention of the resurrection in the predictions indicates clearly that, despite the lack of any account of resurrection appearances in the original ending of this gospel, the evangelist has no doubt of the fact and meaning of the resurrection. The disciples are typically dull, and they proceed to argue about their relative status in the kingdom. Jesus responds with a paradox and an enacted parable. As he will achieve lordship only through the path of suffering, so his disciples must follow him in suffering and in service. In Jesus' culture, children were not idealized. Like women, they were of secondary importance. Thus, receiving a child as though he or she were Jesus enjoins upon the Christian community openness to all the lowly and rejected, for in Hebrew practice, the envoy of someone was to be treated as that very person.

Gratitude

Parish Picnic

Many, many thanks to all those involved in helping to make the parish picnic a big success. Your contributions truly honored the beautiful setting Luisa Hunnewell invited us to share. A very special thank you to Luisa for hosting this wonderful event. We are so grateful to have spent such a lovely, hot and sunny fall Sunday at her home. And thank you to Emily & Frank Hunnewell for their work with the preparations and the recycling. All in all, it was a wonderful day to connect with friends and welcome new families to the parish.
