History from our Archives

We hope you enjoy these timeless items as we journey through our 125th anniversary year, culminating with our celebration in November. We want to share snippets of history from our beginnings, chronologically each month throughout the year, culled from the archives. This month features items from 1900 to 1920. Comments welcome. Thanks.

The Easter Offering will be for the Special Maintenance Fund, for which an envelope is enclosed.

Some unusual and unexpected expenses caused a deficit at the beginning of the year, and there are much needed repairs which ought to be made this spring on both church and rectory.

For these purposes I am asking a special effort on your part. A little self-denial and awakened sense of interest in the present and future well-being of the parish will accomplish much.

God bless you and yours this Easter-tide.

You are cordially invited to attend a Men's Supper in the Guild Room of St, Andrew's Church, Thursday, January 29, 1914, at 7 P.M. Our aim is to see every man there who has any interest or affection for the parish.

Help to swell the number by your presence. A good support and a hearty welcome await you. The only charge is to be present and send your reply to me not later than January 24. Informal Dress.

Saint Andrew's Sunday School Picnic

The members of Saint Andrew's Sunday School, and many of the parishioners enjoyed an outing at Norumbega Park on Tuesday of this week. A special car left Wellesley Square at eleven o'clock, and the whole number present during the day was about seventy-five. A bountiful luncheon had been provided after which ice-cream and candy were distributed and each child was given ten cents by the rector for spending money.

A most enjoyable day was the general verdict and the hope was expressed that another year would see many more present making this a parish picnic.

One of the largest private confirmations which has ever taken place in the diocese was at St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley, on Sept. 17, 1914 when a class of nine was presented to Bishop Babcock by the rector, E.B. Dean.

As we observe Armistice/Veteran's Day: in the autumn of 1914, Bishop William Lawrence authorized a service of intercession for the Peace in the World. President Taft requested all God-fearing persons to repair to their several places of worship and offer supplication to Almighty God for the restoration of peace.

The Festival for the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church took place on Christmas Eve. A short service was held in the Church at which the children and congregation joined heartily in the Christmas carols. An address was made by the Rector, emphasizing three great thoughts of the Season. Love, Service and Worship.

All were then invited to the Guild Room where a Christmas Tree was found and hailed with delight by the children. In the absence of Santa Claus, Dr. Anthony gave each member of the Sunday School the present that Santa Claus had sent together with a box of candy and an orange.

The Church presents a festive appearance in its garb of green and red; too much credit cannot be given to those who by their faithful and artistic efforts transformed it into a bower of Christmas garlands and beauty.

As the Fourth of July, 1915 comes on Sunday this year, the religious significance of the day will be recalled in the services. Patriotic Hymns will be sung and the Stars and Stripes carried in the procession. Every American ought to share in the Church's celebration of Independence Day.

We possess many national blessings, which we owe to brave men who died that their children might inherit a land of freedom, and to God, the Giver of all good.

Everyone ought to take part in the remembrance of our forefathers and in our thanksgiving to Almighty God.

The rector announced at the morning service last Sunday, that the property in the rear of the church, belonging to the estate of the late Elizabeth Green, has been purchased by St. Andrew's Parish. It is proposed to use that part of the land thus acquired, adjoining and with that owned by the parish, for the erection of a permanent masonry chancel; which will be joined to the present church building, until such time as a new nave can be built. A parish house is also to be constructed between the church and rectory.

Collect of the Day

Celebrant Together we pray.

People Set us free, O God, from the bondage of our sins, and give us the liberty of that abundant life which you have made known to us in your Son our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

First Lesson: Isaiah 6:1-8

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lofty; and the hem of his robe filled the temple. Seraphs were in attendance above him; each had six wings: with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew. And one called to another and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory."

The pivots on the thresholds shook at the voices of those who called, and the house filled with smoke. And I said:

"Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts!"

Then one of the seraphs flew to me, holding a live coal that had been taken from the altar with a pair of tongs. The seraph touched my mouth with it and said: "Now that this has touched your lips, your guilt has departed and your sin is blotted out." Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" And I said, "Here am I; send me!"

Reader The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

Psalm 138

David Hurd

The congregation is encouraged to sing the psalm.

- 1 I will give thanks to you, O LORD, with my whole heart; *
before the gods I will sing your praise.
- 2 I will bow down toward your holy temple and praise your Name, *
because of your love and faithfulness;
- †3 For you have glorified your Name *
—and your word above all things.
- 4 When I called, you answered me; *
you increased my strength within me.
- 5 All the kings of the earth will praise you, O LORD, *
when they have heard the words of your mouth.
- 6 They will sing of the ways of the LORD, *
that great is the glory of the LORD.
- 7 Though the LORD be high, he cares for the lowly; *
he perceives the haughty from afar.
- 8 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you keep me safe; *
you stretch forth your hand against the fury of my enemies;
your right hand shall save me.
- 9 The LORD will make good his purpose for me; *
O LORD, your love endures for ever;
do not abandon the works of your hands.

Second Lesson: 1 Corinthians 15:1-11

I would remind you, brothers and sisters, of the good news that I proclaimed to you, which you in turn received, in which also you stand, through which also you are being saved, if you hold firmly to the message that I proclaimed to you—unless you have come to believe in vain. For I handed on to you as of first importance what I in turn had received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the scriptures, and that he was buried, and that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers and sisters at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have died. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me. For I am the least of the apostles, unfit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace toward me has not been in vain. On the contrary, I worked harder than any of them—though it was not I, but the grace of God that is with me. Whether then it was I or they, so we proclaim and so you have come to believe.

Gospel: Luke 5:1-11

Clergy      The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to Luke.

People      Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Once while Jesus was standing beside the lake of Gennesaret, and the crowd was pressing in on him to hear the word of God, he saw two boats there at the shore of the lake; the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little way from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, “Put out into the deep water and let down your nets for a catch.” Simon answered, “Master, we have worked all night long but have caught nothing. Yet if you say so, I will let down the nets.” When they had done this, they caught so many fish that their nets were beginning to break. So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them. And they came and filled both boats, so that they began to sink. But when Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus’ knees, saying, “Go away from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man!” For he and all who were with him were amazed at the catch of fish that they had taken; and so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. Then Jesus said to Simon, "Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching people." When they had brought their boats to shore, they left everything and followed him.

About the Readings

Isaiah 6:1-8, (9-13) Isaiah experienced his call to be a prophet in the temple at Jerusalem. He saw a vision of the Lord enthroned amidst the divine council in the setting of the temple at Jerusalem. The triple repetition of holy emphasizes the awesome, unapproachable quality of the divine. Isaiah responds to the experience of God's holiness with a sense of profound sinfulness, not only his own but that of all the people. He is granted cleansing and healing grace through the coal from the altar, so that he may proclaim God's word to the people.

Psalms 138 In this psalm of thanksgiving, the "gods" of verse 1 may be the members of the heavenly council or the rulers and gods of other nations. Verses 1-4 give praise for the Lord's help, and verses 5-7 describe the effect of God's majesty and mercy upon the kings of the earth. The psalm concludes with an expression of the psalmist's trust that God will personally care for him.

1 Corinthians 15:1-11 In preparation for discussing the resurrection of the dead (15:12), Paul reminds the Corinthians of their common ground of belief. By quoting a traditional formulation of the essential proclamation about Christ (15:3-5), he recalls the basic creedal statements he taught them. Which particular "scriptures" (that is, of the Old Testament) Paul means in verses 3 and 4 is not explicit. In general the statement "in accordance with the scriptures" expresses the conviction that these events took place according to God's purpose. It was, however, the religious experience of the early Christians, not merely the evidence of the Old Testament, that shaped their belief. Paul's list of resurrection appearances can only tentatively be tallied with those in the gospel accounts. Finally, Paul lists the Lord's appearance to him, "as to one untimely born" (v. 8), perhaps referring to Paul's belated revelation, or perhaps taking up a term of abuse applied to him by others. But whatever Paul's defects or his gifts, he preaches the same gospel as the other apostles, the same gospel that the Corinthians accepted.

Luke 5:1-11 Today's story of the wondrous catch of fish focuses on Peter's response and illustrates what every Christian disciple must undergo to follow Jesus. Aware of God's power at work in Jesus, Peter leaves everything to follow him (v. 11). The enormous catch prefigures his missionary success. Jesus reveals the conditions for following him.

First, “Do not be afraid” (v. 10). In the gospels, fear is the opposite of the basic trust that we identify as faith. Faith is the trust in another person that serves as the bond (Latin, fides) of a relationship. Because of that bond, we are willing to change our lives. Second, Jesus indicates how Peter’s life will change. Instead of luring fish into a net, Peter’s new job will be “fishing” for people to bring them into the net of Jesus’ kingdom community.

“Refreshing” the Parish Prayer List

Praying for our loved ones at times of need is a central part of our worship and church life. We would like to remind you that at the beginning of every season, we “refresh” the prayer list. We remove names of people for whom we have been asked to pray if we have not heard that you wish us to keep your loved one on the list for the next season. We are happy to keep people on the list for as long as they are in need of our prayers. However, our proactive approach helps prevent a buildup of people on the list after the need for our prayers for that person has passed. Thanks for your help with this.
